Dr. Verniese Moore is a physician, entrepreneur, and advocate whose career exemplifies resilience, purpose, and the transformative power of perseverance. A leader committed to advancing the well-being and visibility of women in medicine, Dr. Moore brings a depth of experience shaped by both professional rigor and profound personal adversity.

Fifteen years ago, Dr. Moore was diagnosed with stage III lymphoma and given six months to live. What followed is central to her story: a hard-won battle fueled by faith, determination, and an unyielding belief in her future. Her survival—and the life she built afterward—stands as a testament to the strength that emerges when challenge meets conviction.

Today, as a practicing physician and the founder of the luxury handbag brand VIE LORIE, Dr. Moore continues to redefine what is possible for women physicians. Her work reflects a commitment to excellence, intentional leadership, and creating space for women to thrive in medicine and beyond.

Dr. Moore speaks candidly about overcoming adversity, confronting the realities of modern medical practice, and leading with authenticity. Her narrative inspires physicians to honor their journeys, protect their well-being, and pursue their purpose with courage.
